Product description:

The Bench has a clear silhouette with its straight horizontal and vertical lines. The contrast to the natural, solid danish oak gives the bench an interesting warmth, yet a clear expression. The minimal backrest with its moderate angle supports the seating position. The bench can be accompanied by a leather cushion which offers an extra level of comfort and style. Due to its natural material, the leather cushion will patinate beautifully over time.

Designer's thoughts:

"We wanted to create a comfortable and archetypical bench where only a few design elements stood out. The brass details are important to highlight which is why the braces are pulled down towards the floor. This makes the bench both strong and easily recognizable." – Herman Studio

Natural oil treated
